

Dr. Alvin Miles

Consultant | Coach | Speaker

Dr. Alvin C. Miles is a Strategic Consultant, Executive Coach & Public Speaker with a passion for strengthening organizational performance and increasing equity in organizations. He is CEO of Miles Management International, and teaches leadership, building business savvy, communication strategies and how to read the room in any setting.

Dr. Alvin's educational credentials include a Bachelor of Science in Organizational Management with honors from Morris Brown College, Master of Business Administration with honors and a Doctor of Business Administration from the Michael J. Coles School of Business at Kennesaw State University.

Dr. Alvin's corporate background involves leadership responsibilities for large, multi-generational teams within BellSouth/AT&T, focused experience working with several Network groups, Employee Resource Groups (ERG), and as Operations Director for BellSouth's regional Customer Wholesale Interconnections Network Services (CWINS) call center. Upon retirement from AT&T, he chose a career in academia and immediately became both the Director of the Executive MBA Program (EMBA) at Kennesaw State University (KSU) and a student in the inaugural cohort of KSU's Doctoral Program in the school of business. In academia, his experience included operational leadership, P&L management, candidate recruitment and retention, and alumni outreach while ensuring diversity of faculty and staff of an award-winning Executive MBA Program. As a faculty member in the EMBA, he taught a variety of teaming and leadership courses that directed and supported the teaming efforts of international mid-career professionals and executives throughout their EMBA journey.

Dr. Alvin has contributed his time and talents as a lector & usher at St. Martin de Porres Catholic Church, and as a past Corporate Advisory Board member of The Hispanic Corporate Council of Atlanta (HCCA). Dr. Alvin served as Chair of the Development and Marketing Committee for the Global Soap Project; a non-profit whose mission is to improve global health and save lives by providing discarded/recycled soap to vulnerable populations. He also piloted a pioneering leadership curriculum to teach minority high schoolers a framework to identify & develop career plans.

As a Strategic Consultant, Dr. Alvin works closely with organizational leaders to enhance their success by strategizing new outcomes and optimizing their existing resources to ignite a transformation to their next level of performance. Past clients include AT&T, Lenbrook-Atlanta, DirecTV, Levingston Group and Net Funds Gained.

As an Executive Coach, Dr. Alvin has contributed to the success and executive presence of leaders in a wide range of industries and firms including non-profits, private equity, marketing, media, healthcare, IT and tele/communications. Because of his expertise, managers become leaders and leaders learn to make better decisions, understand diverse perspectives, draw deeper insights and ultimately trust the wisdom they've developed with his counsel.

As a Speaker, Dr. Alvin interacts with audiences and delivers topics with his special brand of energy and humor! He's been interviewed on the Manager Mojo and Living Intentionally podcasts to discuss his MASTER Model™ framework, and delivered timely, customized topics for Voya Financial, AT&T, IBM, Lenbrook Square Foundation Board, DirecTV and the Paulding County (GA) Chamber of Commerce to name a few.
